ADE AND DOOLEY IN A NEW LIGHT.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MUNCIE, Ind., November 18.—In his sermon last night, the Rev. William Oxtoby, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, while speaking of humor as a religious influence, said, "Any wholesome humor is fundamentally religious. To the extent that they have made men happier, George Ade and 'Mr. Dooley' have exerted truly as great a moral influence as have Dr. Hillis or Dr. Gumsalus."

MARION MAN KNEW LI HUNG CHANG WELL.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MARION, Ind., November 18.—Orin D. Walker, of this city, a brother of Judge Walker, of Indianapolis, was reared in China, where his parents are still located, as missionaries. When he was a boy he had one of Li Hung Chang's grandchildren as a playmate, and both went to the same school in Peking. He was then brought into the famous Li's presence many times and knew him well. He is a great admirer of the grand old man of China.

SECY. LONG CALLS ON INDIANA SCIENTIST.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

RENO, B. WELBORN.

UNION CITY, Ind., November 18.—Reno B. Welborn has just signed contracts with a lecture bureau to spend the coming year lecturing under their auspices. His subject will be "Wireless Telegraphy," and he will illustrate his talks with practical demonstrations. He will be one of the youngest lecturers in the country. He has just passed his twenty-first year, but has already become well known among the scientific men, because of his exhaustive study, and demonstrations of wireless telegraphy. He is also known as the originator of the thermo-wireless fire alarm. With this practical working device, he not only gives the alarm to the engine house, perhaps several miles away, without the use of wires, but when the fire itself reaches 130 degrees Fahrenheit, it sets the whole signaling machinery into motion.

Will Choose a New Secretary.

Congressman Cromer will leave for Washington, shortly after Thanksgiving. Private Secretary Lambert, of Muncie, will be left at home to look after the Congressman's political fences. Cromer will select a secretary at Washington from among the numerous candidates for positions of that class. He will return to Muncie shortly before the holidays, and will not go back to Washington until about the middle of January. He may bring home with him a number of appointments for the coming year, and will be in the city for a number of days.

MARION, Ind., November 18.—The affairs of the fruit jar combine were closed at a meeting in Muncie Saturday. From this time on every firm will be independent and a big fight is expected. J. L. McCulloch, president of the Marion Fruit Jar and Bottle Company, said to The News: "For the last two seasons the fruit jar manufacturers of this country, have sold their entire product through one selling agency. The scheme is a practical one, if it were possible to fix an equitable rate of interest between the different firms, but this could not be done. Under the selling agency arrangement, too, many manufacturers in other lines of glassware had begun to enter the fruit jar field. This was already having an effect to disrupt the favorable market conditions." From now on each manufacturer will sell his own product at whatever price he thinks best.

Affairs of Muncie's Defunct Normal Become Hopelessly Entangled.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MUNCIE, Ind., November 18.—The Muncie Normal University board of directors met Saturday, to see President P. A. Z. Kummer for possession of the defunct school's buildings and property, which he refuses to turn over, by unconditional resignation from his office. He asked an eleven-month option on the institution for the United Brethren church, and when the request was refused, he declared he would not step down and out. Charges of mismanagement were preferred against him. Kummer says he will not give possession, unless ousted by the courts.

Gas Belt Manufacturers Not Frightened by Gas Pressure Decline.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MUNCIE, Ind., November 18.—The big Hemmings Glass Company, at least, is not thinking of moving away from the Indiana gas belt, even though the pressure is getting low. Like practically all other Muncie manufacturing companies, the Hemmings have ordered large additions made to their plants. Their capacity is to be doubled by a duplicate tank. They are also building a producer gas system. The plant is one of the largest and best in the gas belt.

Many Republican Candidates Out for City and County Offices.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MARION, Ind., November 18.—City and county politics has begun to live in Marion. As the city election comes first, the city campaign is receiving the most consideration just now. So far, two candidates have been announced for mayor. They are Gus S. Condo and George M. Elliott. Both are attorneys, and are popular and enterprising. Cyrus G. Robbins, city clerk, is a candidate for re-nomination, with Eugene E. Wilson, a barber, a candidate for the same office. Washington E. Lowe, present clerk of the water-works, is candidate for city treasurer, and J. W. Wychman, a plasterer, is a candidate for the same office.

Wanted to Shoot Himself—Tried to Jump Out of Window.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

UNION CITY, Ind., November 18.—A well-dressed stranger, who in lucid intervals says that his name is Francis Joseph Zappetosky, and that his home is in St. Louis, was taken from the Pan-Handle train at this point, yesterday. He is demented, and was in a critical condition yesterday. He paced the aisle of the car, asking people for a revolver with which to shoot himself, and when unable to get one he attempted to jump out of the car window. He was en route to Buffalo. He had a good amount of money, but no papers that would lead to identification.

MRS. HAYNER MAY BE DEAD.

Husband Died of an Eastern Disease—Wrote Methodist Missionaries.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

MARION, Ind., November 18.—Mrs. T. D. Tharp, of Marion, whose brother-in-law, the Rev. J. F. Hayner, died in China the first of October, has received the first letter from there since his death, and it gives the information that Mrs. Hayner, who is Mrs. Tharp's sister, was seriously ill at the time of writing and was not expected to live. The Rev. Mr. Hayner died of a peculiar Eastern disease, locally called tonkila. Three days after his death, Mrs. Hayner was stricken with the same disease.

Shelbyville—William Logwood, colored, was found robbing the home of William Smith, as the family returned from a visit to a neighbor. He broke a window and jumped out, but was overtaken after a short chase and committed to jail.

PAOLI—While Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lomax were trying to drive an unruly cow out of the yard, Mr. Lomax threw a stone which struck an animal in the side, bounding on and hitting his wife above the right eye, fracturing her skull. Physicians regard the injury as alarming.

CRAWFORDSVILLE—Children of T. J. Ogil, a wealthy resident of this city, have been notified of the marriage of Russell, son of their father and Mrs. Anna Abby. Both principals are in their twenties. They were sweethearts in their youth but quarreled and separated, each finding their life mates.

TERRE HAUTE—P. H. Ellsworth registered at one of the hotels and was discovered in his room, dying from the effect of cocaine gas, jets being turned too low in a stove and unlighted. He died without regaining consciousness. It is thought he was drawn adversely to her interests by a brother in Los Angeles, Cal.

LAWRENCEBURG—Mrs. Frances Withers, in the act to break the will of her late father, John P. Walker, alleging that he was of unsound mind at the time it was drawn adversely to her interests, has secured a verdict holding that she is the sole heir. The estate is valued at $25,000. The approximate costs so far are $2,500.

NOTICE IS SERVED ON THE RECIPROCITY CONVENTION.

RISE IN CIVIL SERVICE STOCK

Statemen Realize It Is Worth Something—Hurty and His Cotton
Filter—Indiana's National Flower Movement Indorsed.

[From a Staff Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, November 18.—The prospect is that at least 200 delegates will attend the national reciprocity convention to be held here this week. The coming of the representatives of industrial concerns has taken on additional interest since it became known that opponents of reciprocity treaties are planning to block any legislation on the subject at the coming session of Congress. The delegates to the meeting are, with few exceptions, representatives of manufacturing concerns that are interested in selling their products abroad. The movement for such a convention originated at the convention of the National Manufacturers' Association at Detroit last June, and the idea met with favor in many sections of the country. The trusts, it is understood, will not be represented. The American Iron and Steel Association has served notice on the committee of arrangements that it will not send delegates, and it is announced that the smaller concerns engaged in the iron and steel business will not participate in the proceedings of the convention.

This notice is taken by the promoters of the convention to mean that the trusts are preparing to oppose treaties for reciprocity. The action of the committee on arrangements in serving notice that there is not to be any mention of the tariff in the convention has caused comment, as it is generally agreed that any common-sense discussion of reciprocity must necessarily bring in the tariff for review.

The convention proposes to appoint a committee to call on the President and acquaint him with the demands of the manufacturers. Recently he has heard a great deal from callers about reciprocity, and he invariably says to men who bring up the subject that he believes in the principle, but that it is a question with which Congress must deal. It seems to be pretty well understood now that he will say in his message that reciprocity treaties are most desirable, and will suggest that it is a subject which should engage the earnest attention of Congress.

Indiana, by the way, is well represented on the committee that has in charge the arrangements for the convention. D. M. Parry, of the Parry Manufacturing Company, was one of the prime movers in the effort to bring the friends of reciprocity together, and is on the committee. The other members from the State are William M. Taylor, of the Chandler & Taylor Company, Indianapolis, secretary of the Manufacturers' Club, of that city, and Frederick S. Fish, of the Studebaker Brothers' Manufacturing Company, South Bend.

Gradually the Senators and Representatives, as well as the men in charge of State political organizations, are getting a fairly clear idea of President Roosevelt's policy with respect to appointments. They understand him, and they think they know his intention to go out of his way to antagonize the politicians of his party. On the contrary, he is exceedingly anxious to have the good-will and cooperation of his men in charge of State political organizations, and he does not want this good-will and cooperation at the sacrifice of principle. He is anxious to have the good-will and cooperation of his men in charge of State political organizations, and he does not want this good-will and cooperation at the sacrifice of principle.

His views on civil service and his adherence to the doctrine that there are departments in the public service in which political considerations should be disregarded, are not understood by all his political friends, but it does not appear that there will be any rebellion against the platform he has laid down. His declaration that appointments to the country's service in the departments or colonies are not to be controlled by political considerations has met with hearty approval in all sections of the country. This expression of opinion is general that to stand firm for such a policy will mean great improvement in the administrative management of the government. Patriotic men everywhere agree that if the United States is to fulfill its mission in the Philippines and in Porto Rico, as well as in Cuba, the best men obtainable must be put on guard.

The temptation to fill up the service in the far-away possessions with politicians is a danger that has been great, and it is the belief that nothing could do more to restore confidence in the United States' ability and purpose to run the islands good government than the recent declaration of the President.

It is agreed, too, that it will be a whole-some thing for the army and navy to have it definitely understood that political considerations are not to enter into appointments and promotions. Some important promotions in the army are soon to be made, and under the President's declaration, they will be made on merit alone. The attitude of the President is not taken to mean that he will not gladly hear Senators and Representatives who have the interests of the army or navy offices at heart. If his position is understood he is forcing his advice and co-operation in enforcing his rule that fitness alone shall govern in making appointments and promotions.

It is being remarked here at the capital that men who had almost forgotten that there was a civil service law in existence have suddenly been brought to a realization of the fact. If reports be true, men in executive positions in the Government service all over the country are making sure that there are no violations of the law in their jurisdiction. The removal of the forced resignation of Collector Sapp, at Louisville, and Moses Dillon, collector at El Paso, Tex., has been a lesson to men in the classified service as employees. The action of the President has convinced the public that he has confidence in the results of the investigations of the National Civil Service Commission, and that when such results are indorsed by the National Civil Service Commission, he will not hesitate to act promptly.

The suggestion made by the Florists' Association of Indiana, during the recent flower show at Indianapolis, that the carnation be adopted as the national flower, has been taken up and discussed by many of the influential newspapers of the East. A few of the papers have treated the subject in a light that recalls efforts to have the sunflower, the daisy and other flowers made the national emblem in the flower world, but most of the publications have taken up the suggestion seriously and are indorsing it. Here in Washington, where the partiality of the late President McKinley for the carnation was so well known, the movement in Indiana has received cordial indorsement.

was much interested in the device, and may recommend it to the builders of sleeping cars.

Indiana's claim for $700,000 against the United States Government on account of interest on money advanced during the civil war will be in shape for presentation to Congress early in the session. It is explained at the Treasury Department that three courses are open to the State. It may ask Congress to make an appropriation direct; it may be provided in the bill that the disbursing officer shall pay the claim, or the bill may provide that the State shall bring suit in the Court of Claims. Advice is now being taken here as to which one of the three plans had better be adopted. The justness of the claim is not questioned by the Government, and all that stands in the way of the collection is the disposition of Congress to hesitate about taking a favorable action where such large sums of money are involved. The State's delegation in Congress is evidently more interested in the collection of the claim than ever before, and the prospect of getting a bill through seems to be good.

Nearly every Republican Senator and Representative is besieged by employees in the Census Bureau as soon as he arrives at the capital. There are 3,141 of these employees, and they are busy when off duty at the bureau trying to find out what is to become of them when the force is reduced. The present plan is to dispense with the services of 2,500 employees by the middle of next April. Like most persons who succeed in making a large number of men and women in the bureau have hit on the idea of having all the employees in the department placed in the classified service at once, and later on, when the force must be reduced, have their names transferred to other departments of the public service.

Some of the most radical politicians are foremost in advocating putting the bureau in the classified service without delay. The National Civil Service Commission has knowledge of the program and does not propose that it shall be carried out. The demand for a permanent census bureau seems to be growing, and if the coming Congress decides that one shall be established, the Civil Service Commission will favor putting the permanent employees in the classified service. The employees in the census bureau are nearly all of a confidential nature and arise in the office of the Secretary of State and his assistants. Mr. Penfield had been a successful lawyer in northeastern Indiana and judge of the Steuben-DeKalb county Circuit Court before he came here, and his associates in the department speak highly of the service he is rendering the department. He lives quietly at the Dewey Hotel.

The temperance organizations of the country are preparing to resist any effort on the part of Congress to interfere with the anti-liquor law. The immediate campaign is in charge of Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the reform bureau. In addition to watching the anti-liquor situation, he is charged with the duty of securing temperance and moral legislation from Congress. The liquor interests of the country also have a committee here which does not permit the temperance representatives to surpass it in activity.

The suggestions afloat as to how anarchy should be dealt with would fill a book. Apparently nearly every Senator and Representative has an idea. The industrial commission will make some recommendations and the commission to revise and codify the criminal and penal laws of which William D. Eymann, of Indiana, is a member, will, it is understood, treat the subject in its forthcoming report to the Attorney-General. As this commission is made up of able lawyers its recommendations are looked forward to with much interest. In the discussion of what should be done one line of opinion is that the immigration laws should be more strict, and another view is that the important thing is to look up the suppression of anarchy in the borders of the United States. Men who have devoted much thought to the subject are inclined to believe that no great deal can be done at the points of embarkation. They are inclined to believe that the most wholesome legislation would be along the line of providing for the punishment of men who utter anarchistic sentiments, either by mouth or pen, and to provide by court process for the deportation of known anarchists who have recently immigrated to the country from which they came. Whatever the view of Congress will be it will have plenty of suggestions.

JAMES F. HORNADAY.

WOMEN PREACH THE GOSPEL.

Denominational Lines Cast Aside and Doctrinal Subjects Tabooed.

FT. WORTH, November 18.—The great religious feature of the W. C. T. U. assembly was presented yesterday. Thirty-four of these women occupied as many pulpits in different churches in this city, preaching in most instances morning and evening. The topics covered were the whole common ground of religious thought of the world. Doctrinal discourse was tabooed. Methodists occupied Presbyterian pulpits, Unitarians talked to a Methodist Episcopal South congregation, and Baptists and Congregationalists fraternized under the white banner of temperance.

Chief interest centered in the annual sermon preached in the Christian tabernacle by Elizabeth W. Greenwood, of New York, world's and national evangelistic superintendent. The texts were 1 Corinthians 13:1: "For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel," and Matthew 9:13: "I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

The supreme thought in the discourse was preaching the gospel. The speaker said that all history teaches the wisdom of righteousness and the folly of wrongdoing. She instanced Haman, Robespierre, Louis XVI and Caligula as instances. Here is a notable quotation: "Politicians strove to make Theodore Roosevelt Vice-President that they might remove him as Governor of New York, in the hope that they would no longer be hindered in their wicked schemes and behold a most signal and disastrous reversal of their plans. Roosevelt, a man of destiny, deep drawers, unbossed and unrefined piece of furniture. It has a large case for books and the desk is fitted with stationery racks; worth $13.00.

She pleaded for the object of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and pledged its 300,000 members to right living. In the afternoon a grand Philippine rally was held at the opera house, which was overflowed. The question of evangelizing the islands was discussed in the light of the personal relation of one who had been there, and pledges were secured to maintain a missionary for a year.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Anna Dorr, Sidney, Iowa.

BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disagreeing pimples.

External vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shook, 725 E. 12th St., St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disagreeing eruption on her face, which related all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S. and by the time the first bottle had finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and she has not had a return. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfading cure for the worst form of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed perfectly vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexions. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the blood, and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part, thus carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

GRAND OLD TOWN OF LAUREL.

VALUABLE BUSINESS POINT IN EARLY PIONEER DAYS.

FOUNDED BY JAMES CONWELL.

Original Sale of Lots Provided No Intoxicants Should be Sold. Else the Title was Forfeited.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LAUREL, Ind., November 18.—The history of Indiana will never be complete without more than a single page being allotted to this grand old town, for it is one of the places that has helped to make the history of this great State. It is estimated that in Indianapolis alone there are more than three hundred people who either lived in this town at one time, or who have relatives here. And there is not a section of the State, or hardly of the country, but there is some one who feels an interest in this place, now a sleepy village, once one of the most important stations on the old White-water canal. In the days of long ago it was a bustling town, and in ten miles an hour—a great speed for a canal boat in those days—took on its passengers and dashed away again. The coming of the packet was a great event and the whole population used to turn out to see the little trim boat pulled by a team of great mules round the bend and lay up against the bank in answer to the steersman's tiller.

Laurel was here before the canal. The town was founded in 1836, and the work of building the canal was begun in 1837. The first boat reached the landing here before the bridge in August, 1840, coming from the feeder dam, up in the slack water. The canal was abandoned in 1850, and November 27, 1850, the first railroad train came through the town. The originator of Laurel was James Conwell, who came out from the East and made money in the oil business in Pennsylvania. He first named the town Baltimore, but changed it to Laurel. In disposing of the lots he gave every one a piece of land, and he gave the town a school. Several years ago there was talk of building a canal from the White-water river to the Ohio river, and James Conwell was one of the promoters. He was a member of Congress from Anderson, who was shot to death by John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln. He was the grandfather of the Stillwell boys, Tom and Horace, of Anderson, who were prominent in the politics and business of the town. Another daughter is Mrs. Maria Thayer, of Indianapolis.

Laurel was a great business place in the canal days. Here was located the old Franklin mill, with a capacity of 120 barrels a day, and it was an uncommon sight to see 300 teams camped about the place, the owners waiting their turn to load their lumber. It was also a great lumber market, and the three great sawmills were kept busy producing the lumber that was sent to Cincinnati by canal. Pork packing was also a great industry in the town. The Patterson brothers (Nelson, Edward and Isaac) were the largest dealers in the country. The Pattersons afterward removed to Indianapolis, and Nelson became a member of the well-known day goods store of Murphy, Ribben & Co. James O'Hare, who is now spending his declining years in Laurel, had a large foundry and machine works here, and the steam engine that was used in the canal was made at his place. One of the largest and best tanneries of the State was once operated here by Hiram Pike, whose widow and son still live here. They kept the "Pearl Street House," and the first chicken fried here, the guests of that hotel was the famous State over. Elias Macy had a wooden mill that did an enormous business. He was the pioneer stone dealer, is now giving his attention to the fruit business, and has one of the largest fruit farms in the West. The chief industry of Laurel now is its great quarries, from which stone is shipped to all parts of America. A railroad runs to the largest quarries. It was built in 1888, and is known as the "Laurel and Clay City Railway." The famous Derbyshire Falls, one of the most picturesque places in the country, is located two miles from Laurel. Originally the site of the falls was a large stone platform in shape of a horseshoe, over which the water fell to a pool below. The father of the late R. B. F. Pearce used to run a boat on the White-water canal, and "Bob" was born in Laurel. He got his early schooling here, and after attending the common school, he went to the State Normal school at Terre Haute, where he was elected to Congress from that district, and became well known as a member of the House of Representatives. General Burnside formerly lived here, and on one occasion he was shot in the arm while on duty. W. Beggs, now prominently identified with the business interests of Terre Haute, lived here. The late John Smith, poetess, used to spend a great deal of her time in Laurel with her niece, Mrs. M. H. Smith. She was a great friend of the late John Smith, and she was a great friend of the late John Smith. The Patterson brothers (Nelson, Edward and Isaac) were the largest dealers in the country. NICARAGUAN CANAL TREATY.

GIVES UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT COMPLETE CONTROL.

SHALL NEVER BE BLOCKADED

Treaty Lays Down the Law to Belligerents—Rights of Vessels of Commerce and War.

NEW YORK, November 18.—The Journal and Advertiser publishes a London dispatch giving what it claims is the text of the Nicaragua canal treaty. The dispatch states that the copy of the Nicaragua canal treaty was shown to a Journal and Advertiser correspondent in London by a "high official of the Foreign Office." After giving the preamble, the dispatch continues:

"It is agreed that the canal shall be open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules on terms of entire equality, and that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise."

"The canal shall never be blockaded nor shall any right of war be exercised, or any act of hostility be committed within it."

"The canal shall be open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules on terms of entire equality, and that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise."

A PRECOCIOUS YOUNGSTER

GROWS TIRED OF VISITING FRIENDS IN OHIO STATE.

WANTS HIS PAPA AND MAMMA

Secrets Himself in a Box Car and Hastens Home, and Then Telegraphs Grandma All Right.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

TIPTON, Ind., November 18.—Freddie Salsline, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salsline, of this city, recently went with his Grandma Lambert to Lima, O., on a visit. The little tot, in a few days, became homesick and begged piteously to return. He was promised by his grandparents that he would be sent home at an appointed time, and he became apparently reconciled. However, while Mrs. Lambert was calling on a nearby neighbor the youngster made his escape, going to the Lake Erie railroad, and in a mysterious manner found his way into an open box car of a freight train, which was headed west, and he arrived home early Saturday.

FREDDIE SALSLINE.

On the boy's arrival his father hastened to the telegraph office to wire the grandparents of the occurrence, when he was apprised of the fact that Master Fred had entered the office before coming home and had sent the following message to his grandma:

"I shot Sunday never turnt get in a car box and turn home to my papa and mamma all myser."

JUBILEE SERVICES HELD.

Trinity Presbyterian Church at Last
Free of Debt.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., November 18.—Trinity Presbyterian church expected to burn a mortgage at Sunday night's services, the mortgage representing the last of a $6,000 indebtedness on the church, built in the early nineties. There happened to be a $715 mortgage, held on the church parsonage, and public-spirited citizens raised the money to pay off the entire debt at the same time. That mortgage is held by distant parties, and it could not be procured in time to burn both together, hence the burning process was omitted from the jubilee services last night. The Rev. Dr. George Knox, of Indianapolis, took a prominent part in the services.

CHURCH ORGAN DEDICATION.

Congregation Subscribes Sufficient to Lift All Indebtedness.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., November 18.—The handsome new pipe organ, which has just been placed in position in the First Presbyterian church in this city, at a cost of $14,000, was dedicated, yesterday. It is the largest instrument of its kind in the city, and is finished in quartered oak to correspond with the interior of the church. The Rev. W. P. Kane, D. D., president of Wabash College, preached the dedicatory sermon. At the conclusion $1,000 was subscribed by the congregation, which will be used to clear the church of all indebtedness. A sufficient sum was subscribed to pay for the organ before it was purchased.

ROPE BROKE AT WRONG TIME.

Miss Nellie B. Gates, a Teacher,
Crushed to Death.

RALEM, Ind., November 18.—It had been customary for years to use a rope and tackle in hoisting supplies to the third floor of the opera house building, and Saturday afternoon two men were engaged in lifting coal in this manner. The rope broke in the ascent of a barrel filled with fuel as Miss Nellie B. Gates and Miss Bradie Schrum, teachers in the city schools, were passing underneath. Miss Schrum springing out of harm's way, but Miss Gates was caught and fatally crushed, dying in fifteen minutes. She

ONE ARREST IS PROBABLE.

Patrolman Wilbur S. Sherwell is Under Surveillance.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

EVANSVILLE, Ind., November 18.—Coroner John P. Walker has under surveillance Wilbur S. Sherwell, a policeman, whom he says he will place under arrest before 3 o'clock this afternoon. Sherwell has been in the coroner's office all morning, and is now under examination. Coroner Walker has the affidavit already prepared, charging Sherwell with the murder of Lena Renner on last Monday night. The most damaging evidence against Sherwell is the statement of one Mrs. Parker that Sherwell took the girl riding on the Monday night in question. Sherwell first told the coroner that he was at the People's Theater on Monday night, and that he went out several times during the performance and bought drinks at William Oatsokey's, the bartender, Louis Oatsokey, says that Sherwell was not in the saloon on that night. Coroner Walker says the man will be taken before Justice Poole some time this afternoon.

Witnesses Against Sherwell.

John Kauffer, a young railroad man, who has kept company with Lena Renner, told Coroner Walker that he met Lena on the night of the murder. He says he asked the girl where she was going and she replied: "I am going to take a ride with a policeman." The girl told several other witnesses she was going with a policeman. When Sherwell was called before Chief of Police Heuke, on the charge of being drunk on the Monday night in question, he said he was at the People's Theater. Mrs. Parker, who lives next door to the Renner woman, says that Sherwell came by her place Monday night with a rig and made this statement: "I was just passing by and thought I would stop and see you. I have been out riding and am going to put up my rig." Sherwell is trying to prove an alibi. Mrs. Parker was brought before the coroner this morning and faced Sherwell. The officer denied he was at Mrs. Parker's on the night in question. Mrs. Parker, facing Sherwell, said: "You know you were there, and there is no use for you to deny it."

Inopportune Alarm of Fire.

But for an alarm of fire, calling out the department to a burning stable, it is believed that the murder of Mrs. Georgia Rayley would be known to the police. Mrs. Florence Killinger met Mrs. Rayley and requested her company, but Mrs. Rayley replied that she had an appointment, and Mrs. Killinger remarked, "With whom?" "You know," was the response. Before the question could be further pressed the alarm of fire was sounded and the attention of both women was directed to the bright flame of a burning stable. They separated in the crowd, and it was the last Mrs. Killinger saw of her friend. Mrs. Killinger reports that Mrs. Rayley told her she was financially embarrassed. Her divorced husband and three children live on a little farm near Cloverport, Ky., and are very poor. Notwithstanding that a traveling man was traced to Illinois, where he easily established an alibi, six creditable witnesses have been found who met him in this city on Monday afternoon.

SOLDIERS' ORGAN DEDICATED.

Indianapolis Veteran Attracting Notice by His Painting.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

NATIONAL MILITARY HOME, MARION, Ind., November 18.—A new pipe organ, costing $1,500, built by A. B. Feig-maker, of Erie, Pa., has been placed in position in the Protestant section of the home chapel, and the instrument was dedicated yesterday afternoon with a sacred concert given in the chapel, which was attended by Governor J. H. Chapman, the home officials and their families, the old soldiers and citizens generally. Prof. C. E. Tucker, of the Marion Conservatory of Music, presided at the organ, and "The Holy City" was rendered by the Home quartet—Mrs. J. W. Brimacombe, soprano; Mrs. S. B. Beecher, contralto; E. A. Gardner, tenor, and Edward Albert Gensing, basso, assisted by Miss Jessie St. John, soprano, and Miss Elizabeth Ackerman, alto, of Marion.

George E. Gelsendorf, a son of the late C. E. Gelsendorf, an Indianapolis manufacturer of woolen goods, is a member of the home who is attracting attention as an artist of unusual ability. To relieve the monotony of barrack life he took up pencil sketching and landscape painting, executing landscapes which found ready purchasers. Gelsendorf belonged to the One-hundred-and-thirty-second Indiana. A large number of applications are on file for admission to the home, but this branch is full and the authorities are powerless to exceed the limitations. Among the applications are Spanish war veterans and returned Philippine soldiers. The latter are only received temporarily and are subject to an examination every three months and are discharged whenever they are able to do manual labor. Congressman Steele, local manager, will endeavor to secure an appropriation for a new steam-heating plant. He will go to Johnson City, Tenn., this evening, to meet Gen. M. T. McMahon, of New York, to inspect the work of the new Mountain Branch mine, now building there.

SUING ON AN OLD CLAIM.

Kentucky Claimant Wanting Valuable
Property in Sullivan.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

SULLIVAN, Ind., November 18.—Wm. Benton, of Henderson, Ky., a former resident of the county, will file a suit in the Circuit Court here for the recovery of his undivided interest in a forty-acre square, situated in the heart of this city, including the public square, etc., and property now valued at over six hundred thousand dollars. Benton is the son-in-law of Job Walls, a pioneer, who platted the town of Sullivan, and he bases his claim on a defective title. Benton is represented by Evansville and Henderson (Ky.) attorneys.

Accidentally Shot by Stepbrother.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.) LAFORTE, Ind., November 18.—A dispatch from Mills, Wis., states that yesterday, while handling a gun, Merle Swonger, age twelve, accidentally shot his stepbrother, Gerald Gladden, nine years old, through the head, killing him instantly. The bullet entered above the ear. The family is almost crazed with grief. The Swonger family are residents of Marshall county.

ROCHESTER, IND., Nov. 18.—The Chrysanthemum show closed Saturday evening, as described by the special staff correspondent, and the interest was enhanced by the baby show. The News presents to-day a collection of little tots, many of whom took part in the exhibit, and all of whom were prize winners in their own right. The News acknowledges the kindness of Leffel, photographer, who took much interest in the exhibit.

See the New Rookwood

Dull Finish

We have just received a fine assortment of this latest and best achievement of the famous Rookwood artists.

This collection was selected by our own representative, which means much.

Remember: If you purchase a piece of mat-glass Rookwood, you possess the only piece that was ever made or ever will be made of that exact pattern.

If you will call and ask to see the new Rookwood, the sight will repay you for your trouble, and we will try to show you that the pleasure is ours as well as yours.

Change of Name.
The sign on the beautiful new family church, built by C. T. Whitsett on North Meridian, has been changed from the St. Charles to The Charleston Inn.

Zionville Contractor Killed.
Rodney Wells, a contractor of Zionville, Ind., fell from a scaffold north of Broad Ripple, Saturday evening, and died two hours later from his injuries. He was forty-five years old.

Notes of the Stage.
Julius Murray is going to revive "A Woman of No Importance" with Rose Connelley in the principal part.

Three Indianapolis actors are in the cast of "On the Suwanee River." They are Lawrence Atkinson, Low A. Warner and Allan Bailey.

Mrs. McKee Rankin and Mathilde Cottrell have been engaged to join Annie Russell's company in Clyde Fitch's new comedy, "The Sign of the Cross," which will be produced at the Lyceum on December 2.

Selma Herman, the well-known actress, is soon to be married in Cincinnati to Mr. Shuman, also of the theatrical profession.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell has engaged as leading man for her American tour Herbert Warren and G. S. Thibodeau. Neither of the actors has ever before visited America professionally.

Manchester's New York Stars open a week's engagement at the Empire today.

In place of the Dumitrescu troupe at the Grand this week, Barrows, Lancaster & Co., in a one-act play, "Pactio," have been substituted. The headline on the bill is "Truby Shattuck, a singer of ability."

E. J. Morgan, who is now playing John Storm in "The Christian," created the part when the play was first put on in this country. Both by temperament and physique the part suits Mr. Morgan, who plays it so effectively as to convince audiences that the play is better fitted to a masculine rather than a feminine star.

J. R. Hackett in "Don Caesar's Return" will be one of the early attractions at English's.

Pantomime and all its trimmings will engage the attention of the Park's audiences today and until Thursday. "Humpty Dumpty" is the bill. Not the least of "Humpty Dumpty" features is the vaudeville comedy of the entertainment, which includes Moss and Goodrick, roller skaters; Frobel and Ruge, trapeze performers; the Manning sisters, the three Gardellas, acrobats and contortionists; Mike Arnold, dancer, and others. The company arrived yesterday and it took half a day to put the scenery in place.

"On the Suwanee River," with its story of a mortgaged estate, intrigue and romance, still runs on in a successful groove in the popular-priced theaters. A wholesome "home" play, faithfully produced and exceptionally well played, tells the story. It comes to the Park Thursday, for three days.

Surrounded by a company of unusual excellence appropriate scenery and costumes historically correct, Otis Skinner's revival of "Francesca da Rimini" has been conceded to be one of the dramatic events of the season. It is in such high-class work as is presented in the role of Landolfo, in "Francesca da Rimini," that Mr. Skinner is seen at his best. Mr. Skinner's engagement in English's is for November 28, 29 and 30, with a special matinee Thanksgiving day.

A HARRISON MEMORIAL.
The First Presbyterian Church on His Steadfastness in Faith.

The First Presbyterian church, of which Benjamin Harrison was a member for forty years, has adopted a long memorial dealing with his life and services for the church. This extract illustrates the feeling that is expressed throughout the tribute:

"Heeding the admonition, 'Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth,' he gave himself to his Savior with all the earnestness and steadfastness of his strong nature. A union with Christ was not a formal ceremony to him or a perfunctory act. It was an enlistment for a life-long service, the connection of all his powers to the honor and service of his Savior and his God. The question of acceptance once settled was settled for all time with him; he agreed to all the conditions imposed, and never again wavered or sought to retract. From first to last he was loyal and true."

The church expects to occupy the Sunday-school room of its new temporary building, in Alabama street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, one week next Sunday and the auditorium one week later.

Second Presbyterian Pastorship.
It is believed by many of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church that a call will be extended to the Rev. Owen Davies Odell, of Dubuque, Ia., who preached at the church a week ago yesterday. No definite action has yet been taken.

The pulpit of the church was occupied yesterday by the Rev. Herman I. Stern, of Corydon, Ind. He took the concluding verses of the sermon on the Mount, which contrasts the house built on a rock with the house on the sand, for his text.

Plymouth Church.
Stereotype reproductions of the famous Tisbet pictures of the life of Jesus were shown at Plymouth church, holding services at the Temple, Sunday evening, with a descriptive talk by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Meserve. There was a special song service by Mrs. Hitt, Miss Connor, Mr. Meek, Mr. Green and Miss Vaughn. The organists were Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn. The church to decide upon the permanent location at the Temple, Thursday evening, and a service will be held with special music by the choir, next Sunday.

St. John's Altar Society.
St. John's Altar Society yesterday elected Mrs. John Hall president, Mrs. P. A. Kelleher vice-president, Mrs. Anna Flaherty secretary, Father Gavick treasurer. Father Gavick's report, as treasurer for the year, showed that $49 had been expended by the society on the altars at St. John's.

Half Place Revival Meetings.
The revival meetings at the Half Place M. E. church by the Rev. G. S. Henninger, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. G. M. Smith, began yesterday and will continue every evening this week, except Saturday.

North Indianapolis Baptist Church.
The dedication of the new Baptist church at Thirtieth street, North Indianapolis, has been postponed until next Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Costumes of the Stage.

Women rave over the costumes worn by leading ladies of the stage without pretending to guess at their cost. They do not seem to appreciate the fact that they are illusions. A customer tells me that an ordinary negligee costs about $50, a street dress from $50 to $80, a ball dress $150, and reception dresses from $200 to $325. A leading lady in "Madame Sans Genes" paid $1250 for her gowns, and a famous singer, much admired in America, spent $1,750 on her dresses for a single opera. When the play is done the costumes are sometimes sold by auction, and the prices fetched are sublimely ridiculous.

About two years ago Mrs. James Brown Porter's cast-off costumes were sold for a song. One elegant frock fetched $25, another $20 and another $45. Costumes in "The Three Musketeers" were disposed of at $5 each, the original cost being $55. Six broad-based satin "Julets" dresses, trimmed with lace and pearls, were knocked down for $20, and six "Bommes" costumes, trimmed with silver lace, realized only $25. Twenty pairs of buckle shoes worn by the chorus girls in a comic opera sold for $4.50. Where were the musketeers? Costumes originally costing $25.00, usually being about $2.00. One dollar captured no less than fifty pairs of brown leather shoes had once adorned the feet of divinely fair maidens in an opera in which Lillian Russell was the star. Theatrical jewelry does not deteriorate. Mrs. Faren's casket of jewels fetched at auction nearly $11,000, one necklace being bought for $2,425.
